Premier eligibility

Make the most of a world of benefits. Dedicated support and global access.

Gaining and retaining Premier status

You can access exclusive HSBC Premier benefits provided you satisfy the following:

- “Premier balance” qualification – a minimum combined balance of AUD150,000 equivalent in an HSBC Australia transaction, savings* or HSBC Invest account¹⁸. Excluding balances held in an HSBC Offset Savings, Home loan Transaction (Non Offset) or an HSBC home loan account.

or

- “Premier money in” qualification – a minimum of AUD9,000 per month into an HSBC Australia transaction or savings account[^]. It excludes funds deposited in foreign currency and funds transferred from another HSBC Australia account, including from another HSBC customer.

- Holding an HSBC Everyday Global Account⁺ which you must maintain.

Premier customers (excluding International Premier, Commercial Relationship, Global Private Banking Clients and children of HSBC Premier customers holding Premier Children’s Savings Account)[#] must continue to meet the Premier eligibility criteria. If you fail to meet the criteria for 6 months consecutively then your Premier status will be removed.

You will receive notifications from HSBC in advance of your Premier status being removed to give prior warning.

If you are not a Premier customer but meet the Premier qualifying criteria for 6 consecutive months then you may be upgraded to Premier status. This comes at no cost and you will have access to the Premier benefits outlined in this Premier Service Guide.

You will receive notifications from HSBC in advance of your status being upgraded to Premier.

*Savings held in foreign currency contributes to the AUD150,000 in savings criteria. HSBC has discretion to determine the AUD equivalent foreign currency amount based on HSBC Australia’s currency exchange rate calculation.

[^]This includes funds paid into any HSBC Australia transaction account, savings account, mortgage offset account or home loan account (i.e. Home Value, Home Smart, Home Equity and Standard Variable Rate).

[#]If you are a HSBC International Premier customer you can request Premier status in Australia by providing evidence of your Premier status in another country. If you are an executive with one of our Commercial Banking clients you can request Premier status by providing evidence that you are a Commercial Banking client executive.

If you are a Private Bank client, you can request Premier status in Australia by providing evidence that you are an HSBC Global Private Banking client.

+For existing Premier Cash Management Account holders (Premier CMA), HSBC Australia will grant an exemption from the requirement to open and maintain an HSBC Everyday Global Account to retain Premier status.
